After retiring voluntarily to pursue his passion of training and empowering youth, he founded SHASHWATGYAN in the year 2017, he has then since worked with 38 colleges in and around Maharashtra and Indore. Trained more than 25,000 students, given employment to 10,000 students all from small towns and villages of India. He is solely bound by his grit ideology to work with students from small towns and villages.

He is a Coach, Mentor and Counsellor to many students and believes in transformation. He is determined of his efforts and want to reach as many colleges to give back the lessons of life, which is also the tag line for his founded company 'SHASHWATGYAN-COURSE FOR LIFE.

His ETHOS: Training for us is a means not an end – 'it' is not so much in the text books as it is in the field of real business and customers. All models, approaches and frameworks we use are doggedly focused on pure application, application, application. All examples are taken from real life and applied to your own business there and then.

His VISION: Every student is BORN TO BE SUCCESSFUL; we have to nurse, nurture and assist them on this journey, it requires a shift of mind, a changeover in thoughts and activate the self-belief to bring out the best from every student. Unleashing their true and real potential.

His BELIEF: Training for the sake of training is futile and just an exercise, it's not just academic its more REAL. We must ensure complete development of minds than just work on honing skills when they are not ready to explore and learn.
